

IDENTITY – WHO GOD SAYS YOU ARE

WHAT TO DO:

Sometimes when you look in the mirror, you might notice your hair, your face, or your clothes. But God sees much deeper than that. He sees your heart. He sees the person He made you to be – on purpose and with great love.

At this station, stand in front of one of the mirrors and look at your reflection. As you look at yourself, think about these truths:

- Even if people have called you names or made you feel small, God calls you loved, chosen, and His.
- Even when you feel confused, anxious, or not enough— God knows who you are.
- God made you as a boy or a girl on purpose— and it's good.
- You were made in God's image.
- You are not a mistake.

Next, use a dry erase marker to write on the mirror something that is true about who God says you are. For example, you might write: Child of God, Loved, Chosen, Valuable, Enough, His masterpiece, or any other truth that reminds you of your identity in Him.

Take a few quiet moments to talk to God about how you see yourself - and ask Him to help you believe what He says is true.

You can whisper a prayer as you write, or pray silently in your heart.

WHAT TO PRAY:

- "God, help me see myself the way You see me."
- "Jesus, when I feel confused or not good enough, remind me I belong to You."
- "Holy Spirit, help me believe that Your design for me is good."
- "Thank You for making me on purpose. I am Yours."

BIBLE VERSES TO THINK ABOUT:

GENESIS 1:27 - "So God created mankind in His own image... male and female He created them."

PSALM 139:14 - "I praise You because I am fearfully and wonderfully made."

EPHESIANS 2:10 - "We are God's masterpiece, created in Christ Jesus to do good works."

ISAIAH 43:1 - "Fear not, for I have redeemed you, I have called you by name, you are Mine."

REMEMBER:

The mirror shows your face— but God sees your heart. He created every part of you, and He never makes mistakes. You are loved, known, and secure in Him.

Leader Note – Identity Station

This is a sacred and sensitive station. As kids look into a mirror, they may be carrying lies from culture, bullying, family wounds, or even quiet questions about identity—including early signs of body image issues, or emotional insecurity.

Keep the tone quiet, peaceful, and prayerful. You don't need to "fix" kids in this moment—your role is to anchor them in God's unchanging truth:

- That God made them as they are, with purpose and intention (Gen. 1:27).
- That they are fearfully and wonderfully made, even when they feel insecure.
- That God's voice is louder than the world's, and He alone defines their worth.

Activity instruction:

After kids take a moment to look at themselves in the mirror and reflect on these truths, encourage them to use a dry erase marker to write on the mirror a word or phrase that reflects who God says they are.

Examples: Child of God, Loved, Chosen, Valuable, Enough, His masterpiece.

Remind them this is a way to speak truth over themselves and to leave a visible reminder of God's love and design.

If a child expresses confusion or hurt, gently affirm God's goodness and design without diving into complex topics. You might say:

- "God knows exactly who you are—and He's never wrong."
- "You are deeply loved, just as you are. And God will always tell you the truth."
- "He made you with care, and His design is always good."

Let the mirror become a moment of freedom and truth—not pressure. Encourage them to leave this station reminded of who they are and Whose they are.
